Description

Sutter Health offers diverse internship opportunities across various departments and specialties, tailored to your academic background and interests. You'll work alongside dedicated mentors on projects relevant to fields like:

- Clinical Care: Assist with patient care under supervision in areas like nursing, physical therapy, or pharmacy.
- Public Health: Support community health initiatives, research projects, or policy development.
- Health Administration: Gain insight into healthcare operations, finance, and strategic planning.
- Research: Collaborate on cutting-edge research projects in laboratories or clinical settings.

Responsibilities

- Assist with assigned projects under the guidance of experienced mentors.
- Conduct research, collect data, and prepare reports relevant to your internship area.
- Participate in meetings, trainings, and potential professional development opportunities.
- Collaborate with colleagues and contribute to a positive and professional work environment.
- Specific tasks will vary depending on the chosen department and program focus.

Qualifications

- Currently enrolled in a graduate program (Master's or Ph.D.) in a relevant field such as healthcare, public health, business administration, information technology, or related disciplines.
- Minimum GPA of 3.0 required (may vary depending on specific program).
- Strong interest in the healthcare industry and a desire to learn and contribute.
- Excellent communication, analytical, and problem-solving skills.
- Ability to work independently and as part of a team.
- Proficient in Microsoft Office Suite, with additional software skills preferred depending on the program.

Experience

- Prior internship or relevant work experience preferred, but not required.
- Strong academic performance demonstrates your ability to excel in the internship.
